

LOGISTICS FOR AGRICULTURAL GOODS

Rhenus offers its clients the full range of specific services for logistics involving agricultural products and fertiliser. We organise the transport chain from production to end user on the basis of your requirements, making use of our network of specialised terminals and warehouses as well as inland vessels and other means of transport. Moreover, we also supply biofuel production plants and handle the distribution of intermediate and final products.

Services

- National and international transport by sea, inland waterways, rail and lorry
- Transshipment including inspection at sea and inland ports
- Storage at sea and inland ports
- Warehousing in special silos and flat storage areas
- Picking, bagging, palletising, distribution, etc
- Quality and quantity control
- Crane handling in special fertiliser stores
- Additional import services such as CIF receipt
- Transit customs clearance
- Distribution to end user by lorry
- Moisture and temperature control
- Acceptance and analysis of grain and oilseed incl. harvest and post-harvest data acquisition
- Aeration, cooling, temperate control and pest control
- Weighing on electronic continuous weighers and weighbridge

Equipment

- Special equipment for handling, storage and transport of fertiliser
- Equipment for quality analysis and processing (cooling, drying, cleaning and gassing)

IT services

- Handling using client-specific IT
- Stock management
- Fiduciary management of EU intervention stocks using special IT solution